

Environmental Law Distinguished Speaker Series

October 29, 2015

Franklin Kury

"The Environmental Amendment to the Pennsylvania Constitution: How It Came to Be and Where It is Going"

Commonwealth Law Campus A180, 4:00 p.m.

(will be videoconferenced to the Delaware Law Campus, Special Collections)

1 free CLE (substantive) credit is available for attending the live, one-hour program in Harrisburg, PA.

Franklin Kury was elected to the Pennsylvania House of Representatives for three terms (1966–1972), where he was the author and lead advocate for the environmental rights amendment to the state constitution (Article I, Section 27). In 1972, he was elected to the first of two terms in the Pennsylvania State Senate, where he became a leader in government reform. He is now with Malady & Wooten in Harrisburg, where he advises clients on state government issues and advocates on their behalf.

Widener University
Delaware Law

November 4, 2015

Rob Fowler

"Federalism, Environmental Management and Climate Change—Comparing the U.S. and Australian Experience"

Delaware Law Campus Special Collections, noon

(will be videoconferenced to the Commonwealth Law Campus, Library, Flex Room)

Rob Fowler has had a long and distinguished career, and is currently a professor in the Law School at the University of South Australia and co-Convener of the Australian Panel of Experts in Environmental Law. Fowler was recently recognized by the Law Council of Australia with a special award for his "exceptional contribution to the development of environmental law." He has published one book, four edited books, and more than 100 journal articles, book chapters, conference papers, and consultancy reports.

Widener Law
Commonwealth

April 14, 2016

Emily Hammond

"Climate Change and the Limits of Administrative Law"

Commonwealth Law Campus A180, 4:00 p.m.

(will be videoconferenced to the Delaware Law Campus, Special Collections)

1 free CLE (substantive) credit is available for attending the live, one-hour program in Harrisburg, PA.

Professor Hammond is a nationally recognized expert in energy law, environmental law, and administrative law. A former environmental engineer, she brings technical fluency to cutting-edge issues at the intersection of law, science, and policy. An elected member of the American Law Institute, Professor Hammond is also chair-elect of the American Association of Law Schools' Administrative Law Section, and a member scholar of the Center for Progressive Reform. She was recently honored as a Distinguished Young Environmental Scholar by the Stegner Center, University of Utah.

April 20, 2016

Irma Russell

"The Constitution and Direct Democracy: Citizen Participation in Environmental Law and Regulation"

Delaware Law Campus Special Collections, noon

(will be videoconferenced to the Commonwealth Law Campus, Library, Flex Room)

Irma Russell is the Edward A. Smith/Missouri Chair in Law, the Constitution, and Society at the University of Missouri-Kansas City School of Law. Russell served as dean of The University of Montana School of Law from 2009 to 2014. Russell served as chair of the ABA Section of Environment, Energy and Resources (2011–12) and as chair of the AALS Section of Natural Resources and Energy Law (2011–12).

For more information:

Delaware Law Program, email
DelawareLawCLE@widener.edu

Commonwealth Law Program,
email CLEcwlw@widener.edu